

PRIVACY POLICY

When you register or take advantage of the features, offerings, services and content on the family of web sites offered by Pacer International and its subsidiaries and affiliates (each a "Site" and collectively, the "Sites"), you provide Pacer International and its respective subsidiaries and affiliates (collectively, "we" or "us") with certain information about you and your company. This Policy explains our information practices that apply to your use of the Site, as well as the choices you can make about the ways we use this information.

This Privacy Policy applies only to information about you collected by us and it does not apply to information collected by third party websites or resources linked to or otherwise accessible from offerings presented by us on the Site. The information collected or received by these affiliated providers and third party websites is subject to their own privacy policies.

Collection of Information

In general, we do not collect information about you when you visit this Site unless you elect to send us e-mail, communicate information to us, register for certain services on the Site or use the Site and its applications, features, offerings, software, data, content and services (collectively, the "Services") after you have logged on to the Site with your registration information and password. Depending on how you use the Site, the information that we may collect and store from you may include registration-related information (such as name, home or work addresses, e-mail addresses, telephone and facsimile numbers, company represented and data entered into online applications and forms); transaction-related information (such as payment method or a history of Services you used through the Site and shipment and other data entered into our systems); information about your visits to the Site and your responses to the Services offered on the Site, information about the Services on the Site that you use and how frequently you use them; information about how long you have used the Site; and customer service and other information about you as a registered user of the Site and your use of a particular Service on the Site. Your Pacer Information may be supplemented with additional information that we acquire from other companies.

Your information may also include certain technical information gathered by us when you use the Site. Some of the technical information that may be collected or received include: date and time of visit, the referring address (i.e., the location from which you came to this Site), the type of Internet browser and your IP address (remember that each computer that connects to the Internet is assigned a unique number, an IP address, for identification purposes) and the domain name of your Internet service provider. We will refer to all of this information as your “Pacer Information.”

Storage of Information

When you register or use the Site, your information will be collected and stored in the United States by us. Additionally, we may use your Pacer Information (such as your log in identification) to authenticate you on the Site, to help store your registration and transaction-related information, and enable you to take advantage of services and offerings from us. The United States does not regulate data protection in the same manner as other countries, including the Member States of the European Union. Accordingly, the personal data that you submit to us may be transferred to, processed, or stored in countries where the data protection laws are different than those of your country of residence.

How Your Information Is Used

Your Pacer Information is used to operate and improve the Services presented to you on the Site, to personalize the Services provided to you; to fulfill your requests for products, programs, and Services; to communicate with you and respond to your inquiries; to conduct research about your use of the Services from the Site and to help offer you other products, programs, or services that may be of interest.

Your information may be shared among Pacer International and its subsidiaries. You have choices about how your Pacer Information is used. Your information will not be shared with third parties unless it is necessary to fulfill a transaction or service you have requested, to respond to your inquiries, or in other circumstances in which you have consented to the sharing of your information. We may use your Pacer Information to present offers to you on behalf of business allies and subcontractors. These business allies and subcontractors receive aggregate data about groups of our Site users, but do not receive information that personally identifies you.

Your Pacer Information, including the contents of your online communications, may be accessed and disclosed in response to legal process (for example, a court order, search warrant or subpoena), or in other circumstances in which we have a good faith belief that the Site is being used for unlawful purposes. We may also access or disclose your information when necessary to protect our rights or property or in special cases such as a threat to your safety or that of others.

We may use agents and contractors in order to help operate the Site. If such agents and contractors have access to personally identifiable information, they are required to protect this information in a manner that is consistent with this Privacy Policy by, for example, not using the information for any purpose other than to carry out the services they are performing for us.

In the unlikely event that ownership of the Site was to change as a result of a merger or acquisition by another company, your information may be transferred. If such a transfer results in a material change in the use of your information, we will provide you notice about the choices you have to decline to permit such a transfer.

Your Choices About Your Information

We will provide you with access to your registration information; the ability to edit this information at the Log In area; and the ability to deactivate your registration with us.

You can make choices about how your registration information for those Sites we operate that offer registration may be used by us to provide marketing offers to you. In order to do so, please visit the Log In area and review your marketing preferences. These preferences do not apply to communications that are directly related to your registration with the Site or the fulfillment of a specific service or transaction you have requested.

Cookies and Web Beacons

We may use cookies, web beacons, or similar technologies to enhance and personalize your experience on the Site, including to operate and improve Services offered through the Site; to help authenticate your identity when you visit and transact with us on the Site; to remember your preferences and registration information; to present and help measure and research the effectiveness of the Site, and e-mail communications (by determining which of our e-mails you open and act upon); and to customize the Services provided to you by us.

Our Commitment to Security

We have established safeguards to help prevent unauthorized access to or misuse of your information, but cannot guarantee that your personally identifiable information will never be disclosed in a manner inconsistent with this Privacy Policy (for example, in the event of unauthorized acts by third parties that violate applicable law, our policies or the policies of the internet service provider and other connectivity providers). To protect your privacy and security, we use passwords to help verify your identity before granting access or making corrections to any of your information.
